HOSTON, Oct. 29. The long-looked-for battle seen Alls and Directum took place this afternoon at Mystic Park, and Alix easily won. hile the race was more or less disappointing in he character and in the premature with al of Directum, still the result was no surprion to these who were capable of judging criticarly the respective work and action of the two heres. Up to last night the betting, if there was stycholes, was in Directom's favor. His working out, however, has not been satisfactory, and this morning the tide turned in favor

The conditions of the track and weather could not have been more perfect. A bright, cloudless sky, mild weather, and no wind served to bring out a crowd that numbered fully 15,000 which was second in size only to that present at the bly stallion race last month. Directum had several practice miles, being greeted with demonstrations of admiration all along the line as he passed. He seemed a trifle stiff in his action, yet looked fit to meet any aspirant for turf honors. When Alix came out for a little warming up, looking sleek, graceful, and in the pink of condition, she elicited many expressions of approval from the crowd

Previous to the big race John Shepard drove his fast team, Arab and Reina, a couple of lively miles. Then there was an extra race in the 2:15 pacing class with a field of six good horses, and this was sandwiched in with the Ahr-Directum race. The judges of the day were L. J. 22 F-Kt 8 P-Q 8t 4 Powers, President of the Hampden Park Association of Springfield; F. W. Cotton of Chicago, and Col. John F. Thayer, President of the New England Trotting Horse Breeders' Association. S. W. McMillan of New York and John Shenard of Boston held the watches, and Henry W. Burress was the starting judge.

It was exactly 2 o'clock when the starters' bell called Alix and Directum to the track. Directum was quickly on hand, Alix responding a few minutes later. Both were jogged up and down the stretch, thousands of eyes watching their every movement. In drawing for positions Alix secured the pole, thus still further increasing her chance of winning in the minds of her admirers. It took only one scoring to get a good send-off, Alix having her nose slightly in the lead. To the first turn she gradually left Directum, until at the quarter there was a good three lengths between them. Just after getting the word Directum offered to pace, but was quickly brought under control by Hickok. He then settled down to steady work pace, but was quickly brought under control by Hickok. He then settled down to steady work. He could not shorten the gap that Alix had beened up, and three lengths in the rear he followed her to the half mile. After passing the apper turn and coming into the stretch Directum appeared to be closing up on the leader. He gained only a little, however, and as they came down the stretch Alix had a lead of nearly five lengths, and she finished in a jog in 2:05. The queen trotted beautifully, making neither a skip nor a break during the heat.

In the first seare of the second heat Alix came down to the wire half a length shead of Directum, and the horses were sent back for another start. The next time they got a beautiful send-off. Alix shot shead like a rocket, and as she headed for the quarter post exclamations of "See her go" could be heard in every direction. And go she did, leaving Directum in the rear so far that he was never in the race during the heat. At the quarter she led the stallion by five lengths, and there was no stopping her. To the half she kept pulling shead, and when that point was passed the mare was eight lengths to the front, and Directum could not help himself. The mare was trotting in beautiful form and was not forced in the slightest. After passing the three-quarters she was so far in the lead that there were some fears of a distance for Directum, but McDowell kindly pulled up and Alix finished as she pleased, with Directum six lengths behind her. The time was the same to the quarter as in the first heat, but the remaining quarters were considerably slower. The mile was made in 2:14%.

It was plain to be seen that Directum was no match for the great mare, and that there was surely something wrong with him. After the horses had gone to the stable, there were rumors that Directum, and gone lame and sore, and that he would be withdrawn. This was soon confirmed by an announcement by Starter Burress that the judges, at the request of Monroe Salisbury, had, with a competent veterinary, examined Dir

Inish out the race.

After a little wait "Hod" Nelson came out with a runner to act as pacemaker to the queen, and had the satisfaction of following Alix closer with a runner to act as pacemaker to the queen, and had the satisfaction of following Alix closer than would have been the case had he been driving Nelson in a race. Alix was greeted with loud, chers, and she looked to be in perfect form. Twice she came down to the wire, but McDowell was not ready. The third time she was off like a bird, and before she got to the quarter post Nelson's runner was galloping after her three lengths in the rear. He was never able to get any nearer. Alix trotted without a skip, making the quarter in 0.3254, the half in 1.9354, three-quarters in 1.37, and the mile in 2.975. This broke the Mystic Park track record of 2.9854, held by Nancy Hanks, and closed the racing for the day. Summaries:

PAST MILES FOR PHEBE WILKES. the Meets Trevillian and Bente Him to

NASHVILLE, Oct. 20.—The defeat of Trevillian in the 2:10 trot was the sensation for the last day of the circuit meeting at Cumberland Park. He started as the favorite at 10 to 7. In the first heat the stallion set the pace to the half in 1:04id, but was unable to shake Phosbe Wilker off coming home, and the brown mare had a neck the best of it in 2:0814 having clipped three-quarters of a second from her mark. The resolute Wilkes mare went on to victory with ended the 2:21 trot, left over from Friday, in another heat, Mary Best being lapped on the black stallion as he landed in 2:12. The Consolation race for three-year-olds was thought to be pretty sure for Charming Chimes, but Freead proved too nimble for him, the two being only heads apart in the first heat. Venita Wilkes improved on her form of last week by winning a creditable race in the 2:40 trot, after the favorite. Red Rird, had got a heat.

The become colt Oakiand Baron, two years old, trotted in 2:145; in the attempt to lower his race record of 2:165. He was sont at a killing clip to the quarter in 32 seconds and the half in 1:0454, otherwise he might have got nearer to train's unbeaten feat of a mile in 2:1054 at two years.

ROCAMORA AND SHOWALTER.

Hoth Wis Their to a Games to the Open-tag Rept of the Tourney,

The first rom of the chess mantage tourna-ment, sudes at a suppose of the City Chess Club, was played at the Union Square Hotel yesterday. Owing to an error, the drawing made on Friday night had to be done over again, and the players, therefore, met in a different order than was given in THE SUN yesterday. The pairing Recamoro vs. Haipern, Hanham vs. Pillabury, Showalter vs. Jasnogrodsky, Hymes vs. Steinitz, Albin vs. Delmar, Baird a bys. Delimar, haird a bys.

The first game finished was the one between Steinitz and Hymes. The latter played a Ruy Lopes, which Steinitz defended with 3...P.—QRS. The game was almost a draw after Q R B. The game was almost a graw after eight moves.

Hanham and Pillsbury discussed a two knights defence, adopted by the latter. This was a spirited contest, of which Pillsbury might have got the better. However, this game was also drawn after seventeen moves.

Shortly after Albin and Delmar also agreed to draw a game, a French defence, played by Delmar. This was an even game throughout and lasted for ferty moves.

Rocanora beat Halpern in a Vienna game, in which the winner distinguished himself by fine middle and end game play. Halpern resigned after forty-three moves.

Showalter played a brilliant attacking game against Jaanogrodsky, who had also played a French defence and suffered defeat after forty moves. The game was really the best of the series and created quits a sensation. Appended are the scores of the games:

20 min, NOTES BY STRINITZ. (a) My real intention in adopting this move against Lasker at Montreal in the fourteenth game of the match came out on this occasion. Some critics remarked at the time that I had lost fath in my usual favorite, 3. P—Q 3, but, as will be seen, the same dea is carried out after the last move, which secures a draw at best against the most formidable attack, which according to the theory and practice of first-class masters, white has at his disposal.

(b) Lasker in the above-mentioned game played here 4. B x Kt, and then followed 4. Q P x B; C y x P, Q xQ, and black obtained the superior position with his two Bs.

Gillette's Plac Performance at the Parkway Track.

A fair-sized and enthusiastic crowd assembled at the track of the Parkway Driving Club yesterday after-noon to witness a trotting event, which was expected to be the greatest ever seen on Long Island. The original entries were: Gillette, 2:1154; Cephus. 2:1454; San Pedro, 2:1454; Neille W., 2:1414, and Billy A., 2:1214. The last two failed to appear. In the opening heat San Police was Gibbs iaid him up for the heat. Gillette left his feet twice during the mile, and dan Pedro had no difficulty in winaing. The second heat was different. Gibbs evidently set out to again lay up Cephas. San Pedro had no difficulty made a wild beeck at the quarier, and Cephas was a far behind idilette that he could not dwarine the Brooklyn horse who finished four lengths in front. The third heat was a closer contest, but Gibeste could not be heated. In the fourth mile, Young Barford, who draws the black syclone, gave him his head, and, in spite of two short transk, came under the wire in Cit, a grand performance on a half-mile track. A race between these least trething horse, Wantia, Sidney Snith, and iten fawls, was won in straighten to be successful the line with the straighten made the time with first, and 1.10. APPLAUSE AT ST. ASAPH.

"PITTSBURGHPHIL'S" FILLY BEATS DERELICT AFTER A DEAD HEAT.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20,-The sport at St. Asaph this afternoon was of the highest order, the six races being fought from end to end. One of the events was so bitterly contested that the judges were compelled to announce a dead heat. This was in the fifth race, when the Peckham Stable's filly Derelict and Gaorge E. Smith's handsome two-year-old Applause fought it out all through the homestretch. "Pittsburgh Phil," as Smith is universally known, had $12,000 on Applause against about $3,000, and while he was in favor at first of dividing the money, his brother William, who trains Applause, and Jockey Sam Doggett, who rode her, induced the young plunger to insist on running the dead heat off, and the fillies were sent away twenty minutes after the last race Applause was a big favorite, and Doggett, who admitted that he had ridden a poor race the first time, made no mistakes, but went away sailing, running the first quarter in twenty-four seconds and carrying Derelict so fast that she gave up the ghost half way down the home

This was the only close race of the day, as De clare, with the money of the plungers on him, only beat W. Woods's mare Lizzie a nose in a punishing drive. There was 60 to 1 against. Lizzie, and had little Keefe remained cool and hot gone to the whip on the final furlong he would have won beyond peradventure. Maid Marian beat Stonenell five furlongs in 1:0134. showing that the St. Asaph course is bound to be lightning fast when at its best

The speedy filly Sufficient, half sister to Gregory and other great performers, was the choice for the opening dash at five furlangs. The Oneck Stable's Doggett was completely overlooked, and 10 to 1 could be had against this son of The Bard, who has on more than one occa sion shown stake quality. Doggett rode his start, had his field beaten at the head of the stretch. Sufficient had to be ridden in order to beat Beauregard for second place.

Then came the dash of a mile and a sixteenth for a purse of $600. Declare was the favorite. but Dr. Street thought his colt, Galilee, would beat the Dwyer crack, and had all of his friends down on the good thing. Lizzie was indulged with the lead until the upper turn, where Declare and Galilee, both of which had running under a double pull, their effort. When it came to catching Lizzie, with only 90 pounds up, it was no easy task, and had Keefe not become no easy task, and had Keefe not become flustered he would have won with the mare, whom nine out of ten racing men believe that W. C. Daly owns and trains. As a consequence, Simms, by the hardest kind of riding, gut Declare home first by a nose. Lizzie beat Galilee a neck for second money.

Nero was always the favorite for the dash at seven furlongs, going to the post at 2 to 1. He ran for the first time in the name and colors of his new owner. J. Hayman, and Doggett rode him most patiently. Gold Dollar was probably the best horse in the race, but Penn blundered and was outridden at the end, losing the purse by a neck. Lindrum on Kilkenny crossed Nero at the lower turn, and Doggett had a narrow eacape from a bad fail.

The Blemton gelding Song and Dance was at the surprisingly good odds of 9 to 10 to beat Gov. Sheeban, Long Bridge, and Ed Kearney in the dash of a mile, which followed. Griffin waited in front with the three-year-old and won with a great deal of speed in reserve. Long-bridge was unable to run much the early part of the race, but he came the last half mile like a racehorse and was at Gov. Sheehan's throat-latch at the wire.

For the dash at five furlongs, for two-year-the race, but he came the last half mile like a racehorse and was at Gov. Sheehan's throat-latch at the wire.

For the dash at five furlongs, for two-year-olds, Applause carried a fortune for the heavy speculators. "Pittsburgh Phil" had four or five friends helping him to place his money, and when the bugle blew the odds were knocked off many of the slates. Derelict was first away, and Doggett took his time about catching her.

When he did move up on the turn in company with Urania, Simms shot away with Derelict, and whips were flying in the stretch. At the furlong pole Urania was the strongest of the trio and looked like a winner, but shwas handicapped by being between her rivals, and she was repeatedly bumbed into and interfered with by Applause, who appeared to be very tired. The interference finally became so serious that Penn pulled the daughter of Hanover up and let Applause and Derelict go on, the result being a dead heat in 1.0356. Doggett's statement that he rode poorly was demonstrated when Applause won the run-off in 1.0256. Stonenell was an overwhelming choice to win the sprint at five furlongs. Maig Marian electrified the crowd by Jumping off in front, and, tiptoeing the great son of Stonehenge the entire journey, beat him a length in 1.0134. Restraint was third. Wah Jim, the other starter, was sore and needs a rest very badly.

Green B. Morris got angry because he could not have an unlicensed jockey in the opening race on his filly Bizarre, and he punished him-

DR. GARNETT BEATS SIR KNIGHT In a Free Haudicap at Narvagantett Park-Chevy Chase's Strepicchase,

PHOVIDENCE, Oct. 20.- There was quite a large crowd at Narragansett Park to-day. It was "Hank Holiday," and the bank circks were out in force. The weather was perfect, it being more like a day in midsummer. The racing was good and track fast. The feature of the day was a free handlesp at mile and a sixteenth. Sir Knight was a warm favorite. Dr. Garnett also was well played, as he had the best of the weights. Soundmore and Peter the Great were the other starters. At the drop of the flag Garner alost Dr. Garnett to the front, and going down the back stretch he had a lead of four lengths. Sir Knight was in second position and Peter the Great last. They ran in this way small the siretch was reached when the field chased a portion of the gap on Dr. Garnett. Sir Knight was ridden vigorously by Fox, but he was unable to get up, and the fight-weighted Doctor won handily by a length and a half. Soundmore was a distant third. The time, I is is the track record at the distance.

Records On Down Before Tyler.

WALTHAM, Mass., Oct. 20. - Four more world's and class records went before the bicyclers at the park this afternoon. The track remains in splendid condition and this fact explains the fine work done. Henry Tyler of Springfield first went for the half mile, flying start, paced. He not only broke the world's record for that, but also the mark for the third. His time was onethird, 0:34 2-5, begt pargious, 0:34 3-5 made by Johnson at Independence in 1893; one-half, 0:52 1-5, best previous, 0:52 3-5, by C. S. Wells of Sacramento last week. The old mark for the one-third has been called impregnable, and in breaking it Tyler accomplishes much more than in breaking (the half-mile mark. Immediately after this Tyler went for the half mile, standing start, paced. He went to the third in 0.39 2.5, best previous world's record, 0.39 3.5, by Jonson at Independence in 1893. The half was made in 0.57; the best previous, 0.57 4.5, by C. S. Wells of Sacramento last week. Then Arthur Porter of Waltham went out to demolish the class A mark for the mile, flying start, paced. In doing it he made five new class A marks. His intermediate times were as follows: One quarter, 0.27 2.5; one-third, 0.39 1.5; one-half, 0.55; two-thirds, 1:15; three-quarters, 1:24; mile, 1:52 3-5.

The last five are new marks. The best previous mile of this kind was made in 1:58 1-5 by Fred Allen at Springfield. breaking it Tyler accomplishes much more than Yachting News. NEW LONDON, Conn., Oct. 20.-Steam yacht Starling of the New York Yacht Club, owned by David Dows, Jr., was to-day sold to Boston par-ties at a price not stated, but said to be large, and left the harbor after sundown for Boston, to be delivered to her purchaser. Capt. William be delivered to her purchaser. Capt. William E. Withey, who has been on the yacht for several years, took the boat to Boston. It is announced that Mr. Dows has bought the big steam yacht Stranger, built by the late George Osgood, from Mr. George Lewis. William A. Slater entertained a dozen couples aboard his new steel yacht Eleanor to-night. An orchestra was stationed in the cabin while the guests were at dinner. The Eleanor will leave this port next Wednesday, it is now calculated, for a world-circling four, making the first stop at Marseilles.

Mrs. Slater yestenday chartered the steamer stop at Marseilles.

Mrs. Slater vestenday chartered the steamer Ella to bring a large party of Norwich friends from Mr. Slater's former home to inspect the yach.

The Eleanor hauled down the harbor to Pequot this evening, where the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Slater went aboard.

England. After an eleven month's sojourn in South Africa, Jack Burke, the "Irish Lad," has returned to England. Burke fought many battles in America and is considered quite a pugilist. Hurke made considerable money in South Africa and declares that matters in a fistle way there are booming. In an interview with a London Sporting Life reporter Burke had this to say of his trip:

to say of his trip;
"I tell you, South Africa is the Mecca at present for boxers. The sportsmen out there are the best in the world. I was elected a member of Tattersall's while there, and combining bookmaking with boxing, I had a great time of it altogether."

The New Republic Beetines to Cede Any Land to Great Britain for Cable or Conl-ing Stations Annexation Sentiment is Still Very Strong in All the Islands. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—The United Press ondent at Honolulu writing under date of Oct. 13 says: "Two Commissioners recently arrived at Honolulu for the purpose of negotiating with the Hawaiian Government for concessions for a projected cable between British Columbia and Australia. They were Sanford Fleming, representing Canada, and Mr. Mercer of the British Foreign Office. Yesterday a special conference with the Government took place. One of the propositions concerned the possible occupation of Neckar Island as a cable station. The also discussed with the Government the ques tion of concessions for landing a cable near Honolulu. The attitude of the Government in replying to the Commissioners was adverse to making special concessions of any sort owing to prior, exclusive treaty engagements with the United States. Their position, as given by a leading member of the Government last night, is as follows:

"We are positively bound by our treaty of reciprocity with the United States not to make any concessions whatever of land or of special rights to any other Government whatsoever we are not at liberty to lease land to th British Government for any purpose. We wish British Government for any purpose. We wish to be extremely accupulous about this, so there can be no pretext for the United States abregating this treaty. The British Government can lease land of private parties for cable purposes, but they can have no special privileges, They cannot make a cable station at Neckar Island, as that is Government property. There are no available islets in the chain to which Hawaii has not established a claim. Some have not been formally occupied, as the islands form a natural continuation of the group. Hut England does not contest our rights in them, and the United States has fully recognized these rights.

the United States has fully recognized these rights.

"Commissioner Fleming last evening visited a gentleman who was employed in the survey department in 1885 for the purpose of gaining information about Bird Island and its adaptability as a cable station. He learned that it is a rather harren rock 250 miles from Honelula, with an area of about 300 acres. A cable landing could be made on this island, but rain water would have to be secured in tanks, there being no water on the island. It would be impossible to create a coaling station owing to the height of the cliffs above the landing, the steepness of the ground, lack of anchorage for lighters, and the unusual roughness of the sea. There is strong ground for the opinion that the Commissioners do not really desire to eccupy any western islet as a cable station, but decidedly prefer Honelula if they can secure special concessions. There seems to be no doubt that England will be compelled to accept Oshu as her coaling station.

"The British war ship Hyacinthe sailed this morning for Bird Island to make soundings and examine landings for a possible coaling station.

"The British war ship Hyacinthe sailed this morning for Bird Island to make soundings and examine landings for a possible coaling station.

"A meeting of delegates of the American Union purty will convene this afternoon to nominate Senators and Representatives to be elected on Oct. 29. No other ticket is likely to be in the field. Annexation will be the leading plank in the platform. Candidates on the other islands are less clearly pledged to annexation. Many of the planters are opposed to it as being likely to interfere with the labor supply, which is Asiatic at present. It is probable, however, that a strong majority of the coming Legislature will support annexation. This Government refuses nothing positively to England. They hold the subject in abeyance pending the views of the United States Government."

ST. NICHOLAS BANK DIVIDEND.

This is the Last Judge Barrett Will Authorize the Temporary Receiver to Make, The application of Hugh J. Grant, as temporary receiver of the St. Nicholas Bank, for permission to pay an additional dividend of 20 per cent., was granted yesterday by Justice Barret of the Supreme Court. The present dividend will take about $408,776 of the $640,613 which Mr. Grant has on hand subject, also to expenses of the receivership, most of which have, how ever, been paid. Some of the assets of the bank have not been collected. The creditors, who will on this dividend have received 80 per cent. of their claims, will probably get from 5 to 10 per cent, more. On the present application Levi C. Lathrop, one of the largest stockholder of the bank and its Vice-President up to it failure, submitted an affidavit in favor of the temporary receiver paying 25 per cent. at this time on the claims.

The Judge makes comment on those who, with the hope of saving the bank and its charter, expectant that the liabilities might be liquidated had permitted the temporary receivership to run on. The Attorney-General or any of those persons directly interested in the assets of the bank could have moved to terminate the tem porary receivership and for the appointment of a permanent receiver to wind up its affairs. It is not the business of the temof a permanent receiver, which appointment is usually given to the temporary receiver. so that by doing the extra work of settling up the bank's affairs the temporary receiver gets no more in commissions than if he had early een made permanent receiver, besides all dividends which he pays to creditors are at his own risk, because he takes chances that he has uscertained all the creditors, none of whom can be barred out for not proving his claim, as under the statutory advertisment by a permanent re the statutory advertisment by a permanent receiver.

The opinion of Justice Barrett is as follows:

"As intimated upon the argument, I have concluded to permit the payment of the present dividend. But I have reached the conclusion only because of the unwillingness to delay payment to the depositors. I may say, however, that this is the last dividend which the Court will feel justified in permitting the temporary receiver to make. Under the present and preceding orders the receiver will have paid so per cent. of claims, and will have well nigh exhausted the assets of the bank. This practice, while forced upon the receiver cannot, so far as the parties to the action are concerned, be commended. The power conferred upon the Court to sanction dividends by a temporary receiver was never intended as a complete substitute for the statutory proceedings required in the case of a permanent receiver. Here nothing whatever seems to have been done except to serve a compilaint charging insolvency. Yet hearly a year has been suffered to clapse without proceeding to judgment.

"In the mean time we have the anomaly of the substantial winding upof the affairs of the bank by the temporary receiver. The Court would not object to a reasonable delay in the entry of judgment where some good purpose, to be shown as other facts are shown, is to be conserved. Here, however, no such purpose has ever heen judgment where some good purpose, to be shown as other facts are shown, is to be conserved. Here, however, no such purpose has ever been shown; and if it had been, the delay has still been unreasonable. I make these observations so that the parties may not be surprised at the denial of any further application for a dividend neudante lite. The only proper way to wind up this institution is to enter fudgment, confirm the temperary receiver as permanent receiver, and then proceed under the statute to advertise for claims, and thus cut off those who do not then come forward. In other words, to comply with the law, and not attempt to utilize the length of the provisions of the statute with regard to temporary receivers for purposes foreign to the legislative intent."

POWERS NOT MURDERED.

The Experience of a Storekeeper Who Alliewed Two Tramps to Sicep in His Store, BUYFALO, Oct. 20.-David S. Powers, who disappeared from Nunda on Friday evening, the 19th instant, and was supposed to have been murdered by tramps, was found here to-day, and is now at the Fitch Hospital. He is in a dazed condition, and his right leg is fractured. Powers kept the Farmers' Alliance stors at Rose's Crossing, a few miles out of Nunda. On Friday of last week two tramps applied at his store for permission to stay all night. This was granted, and in the mornstore for permission to stay all night. This was granted, and in the morning Powers was missing. A searching party went out and the tramps were captured. They disclaimed all knowledge of Powers's whereabouts and were sent to Genesco County Jall for sixty days as vagrante. The police here were notified and a close watch has been kept for the missing man. This afternoon a tall, alender man staggered aboard a trolley car at the Eric depot. He was very lame in one leg and appeared to be daned. The conductor put him off at the corner of Main and Seneca streets and turned him over to the police.

Arriving at headquarters Powers told the story of the disappaarance. He said that during the night the tramps demanded liquor and hecame abusive. Powers began to dress, and one of them struck him on the head with a stove poker. That was the last he remembered until he regained his senses in a bisec of woods. He drugged himself to a farmhouse, and from there started out to find his way home. This was on Thursday last. He reamed around all yesterday and along in a barn last night. This morning he was picked up by a farmer, who took him to Tonawanda and put him on a train for this city. Powers any he does not know where he was fur the six days of which he has no recollection. His family have been notified.

A TALK WITH GEN. BOOTH. The Founder of the Salvation Army Tells of Its Plans and Practices,

Gen. Booth, the founder of the Salvation Army, told the reporters whom he had invited to meet him at the Plaza Hotel yesterday morning all about his own plans, and those of the Army. He said it was the intention to found a colony in some country where land was abundant, to which colonists could be sent who had been prepared or reformed at the Army's colony at Hadley, England. The Army's interest in its colonists was not to stop with their arrival in the foreign colony, but their moral and physical welfare were to continue indefinitely to be objects of its especial care. In justification of the Army's noisy method of worship, the General said:

"You can divide the Church into the silent and the noisy party. We make objections to their silence, and they do to our noise. This is an age in which the tendency is to suppress the feelings. We are uncultured in the art of suppressing feelings, and we consequently give them full expression. Religion is a thing not of the intellect, but of the heart. If a man's feelings are strong he must manifest them. People do so in politics, in the theatres, at the games in this city, but in the churches they sit like terra-totta figures. They feel nothing. I do not wish to condemn them, however. Nor do I wish them to condemn them, however. Nor do I wish them to condemn them, however. Nor do I wish them to condemn them, but he gave it up here. "I do not live at hotels," he explained, "but with private people, and I do not like to effend them by refusing what they so kindly prepare for me. I have found my appetitud improve greatly since, I do not wish to be unnecessarily singular."

The General said his real work and the reception to him by the Army in this country did not commence till Monday next. His headquarters are at 111 Reade street. found a colony in some country where land
